

Are you interested in making informed and profitable decisions in your beef cattle business?

Join economists Vivian, Tim & Daisy to help you take the guess work out of your decision making and learn how to test the options available to your business to improve profitability.

What you will get out of this workshop:

- Practical examples of how to test management options & how to get these answers for yourself
- When to sell and when to feed
- Optimum herd productivity
- Cost vs benefit analysis

Plus, if time permits, a look at the walk over weigh/water medicator project.
