Prosperity for our rural industries and families

Prue Bondfield

Prue together with her husband David Bondfield of Palgrove Charolais Stud are recognised throughout the beef industry for their commitment to innovation, genetics, production and education being the recipients of a number of industry and business awards. Prue is keen to participate in this forum to facilitate open discussion about the issues our rural industry faces in order to grow prosperity for the future.

Philippa Harris

Philippa Harris is a Registered Mental Health Nurse with many years' experience and has received recognition for her innovation and achievements including the Commonwealth Secretariat Award (London) for Best Practice in Women's Health.

Currently, she is Manager of Education, Training and Rehabilitation Services with Mental Illness Fellowship Nth Qld and runs her own educational practice providing a range of mental health and wellbeing workshops across rural and remote Queensland focusing on Laughter; Labyrinths and Mindfulness.

Jill Rigney

Jill Rigney commenced her career in business support and in this role managed national benchmarking projects in a wide range of Australia's rural industries including sugar, winegrapes, citrus and the grazing industry.

Jill is a leader in presenting and analysing differences in communication styles for individuals and groups.

Jill is trained to apply the principles of Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP) in her professional responsibilities, presenting programs and facilitating meetings across Australia. This training enables her to introduce the subtleties of our communication styles to achieve cultural shifts within individuals and organisations.
