

Future Beef

Research and innovation

The FutureBeef Program for Northern Australia is committed to increasing uptake of research and innovation amongst producer groups and individual beef producers.

Benefit from combined investment into beef research, development and extension that results in practical tools, management practices and information.

The FutureBeef Program is designed to improve long term productivity and sustainability and offers a range of activities to help you benefit from the latest research and innovation.

Visit
futurebeef.com.au

A joint initiative of:

